

Scrive integration for iManage

*E-sign documents via Scrive
directly from iManage*

You can now sign all your documents (in PDF format) directly from iManage (Work) in an easy, efficient and secure way using Scrive, an online electronic signature portal. Signed documents are automatically imported back in iManage in the original location, either as a new document or new version.

THE IRIS ANSWER

With the Scrive e-signature integration for iManage, electronic signatures are built directly into the platform so you can streamline workflows, save valuable time, and avoid the cumbersome challenges of a typical signing process — without compromising on security.

“Send, receive, and track
electronic signatures
without ever leaving your document management system.”

Normally, end-users would have to export their documents to their computer and then upload these files to Scrive; an error-prone and tedious procedure.

HOW IT WORKS

The integration provides users the option to digitally sign via Scrive, by selecting one or more documents. The selected documents are automatically uploaded to Scrive, where the signing process continues and the user is able to configure the signatory invitations via email. Once the signing process has been completed, the documents will be automatically imported back into iManage.

The integration creates a seamless and secure workflow which will enhance work productivity and confidence in the integrity of their electronic collaborations.
